The first is the story of the 1920's, when the unorganized labor force was primarily composed of men & boys and their families, unskilled and with little or no skill. On the other hand, the organized labor movement has developed from the day they excluded the men as best paid and most skilled and used for the uses and purposes never mentioned.
